

DIVINE PURPOSE OF CREATION

The atheists and non-believers do not think that the universe has a purpose. Modern science also portrays it as a system originated on its own by sheer chance! There is no source except the Quran that proclaims to mankind that the universe was created by God with purpose (Q. 15:85; 21:16; 38:27). The divine purpose of creating the present universe is to test the performance of Allah's human robots (Q. 11:7). If we look at the universe as a system from that angle, we will find that the Quranic descriptions and explanations about the components of the universe fit to the divine scheme of human robot testing. And we will see Allah's perfection in its planning, designing and programming to achieve this purpose. The universe as a whole provides the infrastructure required for human robot testing. The planet Earth is the test centre. Undoubtedly therefore the universe is anthropocentric.
